Your Compliance with the GDPR. The Platform is built on the following core principles which form the bedrock of the GDPR.

- Data Isolation. All User transactions and engagements are separated from personal data through a "link". This concept is a pre-requisite to compliance with the GDPR and is called pseudonymization, which is fully implemented in the Platform to ensure the isolation of User data, including User Customer Data and User Business Information, from Personal Information.
- Data Protection. All of your data in the Platform, including User Customer Data and User Business Information, has privacy controls that can be managed by you when operating your business. All traffic on the Platform, including e-commerce, is based on Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) technology.
- Data Audit. The Platform may be used for reporting and audit of your data, including User Customer Data and User Business Information.
- Data Consent. All marketing and transactional features of the Platform rely on opt-in and opt-out features.
- Data Deletion. The GDPR imposes a responsibility on businesses to allow their consumers to request that certain of their personal data is deleted upon request. In the Platform, there is a simple mechanism to eliminate User Customer Data while still providing sales and marketing analytics.
- Virtual Compliance Officer. The GDPR requires every business to appoint a compliance officer reachable by any consumer. The Platform can provide you with a simple way to establish a virtual compliance contact for your business.
- Features for Managing User Customer Data. The Platform provides you and your customers a number of choices:
  - You can use the Platform to select a customer and select applicable data to extract and package in a format ready to e-mail to your customers.
  - Your customers can be provided access to a portal where they are able to access and review the personal data they provided to you, as well as their order history.
  - Your customers can also use a portal to request deletion of their personal data. Following this deletion request, the Platform will allow you to purge the data of selected customers.
  - The Platform permits you to establish policies that control the expiration interval for customer order histories based on "last order".
